FAIR BOARD AND JUNIOR CHAMBER JOIN FORCES TO STAGE '68 SHOW

PORTERVILLE - Directors of the Porterville fair and members of the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce joined forces Monday night to promote and produce the 21st annual Porterville fair, May 16, 17 and 18, 1968.

Represented by President Joe Faure, the junior chamber agreed to take over sale of all exhibit space and program advertising. In addition, the junior chamber will be in charge of outdoor exhibit area arrangement and will handle details involving the moving in and out of exhibits.

Considerable discussion centered around ways to "brighten up" both indoor and outdoor exhibit space.

The fair board will pay the same commission for exhibit space and program advertising sales that it has paid for a number of years to an exhibits superintendent. Faure said that money earned by the junior chamber will be used for major community projects in the Porterville area.

In other business of the Monday night meeting, held in the Southern California Edison company office, fair directors discussed a financial statement on the 1967 fair prepared by Bob Board, fair secretary-treasurer.

The statement showed that fair disbursements were $864.29 more than receipts, however, capital improvements on the fair

RICHARD SHERIFF, honor student in the Strathmore Future Farmer program and sentinel in the State FFA organization, received a scholarship award of $150 from Santa Fe railroad, and an award certificate, at ceremonies Tuesday morning at Strathmore high school. The award, presented by D. Ross Sullivan, special assistant, public relations department of Santa Fe from San Francisco, is based on leadership, scholarship and FFA project work; Santa Fe has had its student agricultural awards program in operation for the past 40 years. Sheriff, now a student at College of the Sequoias in Visalia, will leave next week for the National Future Farmer convention in Kansas City. (Farm Tribune photo)

NORTH TULE FISH PLANT ON SATURDAY

SPRINGVILLE - Ten thousand German Brown trout, 3-4 inches in length, will be planted in the north fork of the Tule river on Saturday, with the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association, the U. S. Forest service, and the State Department of Fish and Game cooperating on the project under a memorandum of understanding.

In charge of the operation will be Tom Masonheimer, ranger with the U. S. Forest service at Springville.

Ten head of pack stock will be used in the mountain area - five head of Forest service animals and five head from Bob Garrison's Aspen Meadow Pack station at Quaking Aspen.

Pest Control Agency Meeting

VISALIA - Directors of the Central California Citrus Pest Control agency will meet Monday evening, October 9, at 1640 West Mineral King in Visalia, at 10 a.m.; all interested citrus growers are invited to attend. The agency, composed of five "local" citrus pest control districts in Tulare, Kern and Fresno counties, has recently come under considerable fire from citrus growers. Directors will discuss future policy at the Monday meeting.

Editorial Comment

By JAMES DORAIS

Back in the days when California used to have a cross-filing primary election system, partisan politicians in the other states never could quite figure out what was going on here.

Every so often, a popular political figure would draw a majority of voters from both major parties into his camp and win the election at the primary. Occasionally, a Republican would win the Democratic nomination and lose on the Republican side — or vice versa—and thus disqualify himself from running at the general election.

Since the repeal of cross-filing, California's election processes are more in line with the national norm, and party "responsibility" (or "bossism", depending on one's point of view), has become a more dominant factor than in the old days of the personality cult.

With California's defection to the ranks of the conformists, the state of Wisconsin stands out as the nation's number one political oddity.

For many years, Wisconsin has had a kind of voter cross-filing system. The candidates don't file in both party's primaries, but the voter is entitled to choose among both party's contenders, regardless of his registration.

This has caused a good many headaches, because when one party has a very strong candidate and is virtually assured of nomination, members of that party can safely be organized to cross party lines and influence the the other party's choice. When this has been possible, the idea, of course, has been to pick the weakest candidate, in the expectation that he can be more easily defeated at the general election.

Now Wisconsin has come up with a new gimmick. In the hope of discouraging party crossovers, both Republican and Democratic leaders agreed to a change, to be put into effect at next year's primary election, by which voters will be permitted to reject all the candidates.

If a Republican doesn't like Romney or Rockefeller or Nixon or Reagan or any other GOP contender on the ballot, he doesn't have to cross the party line and vote for a Democrat in protest, as he might have done in the past. He simply votes for "none of the names shown".

Anti-Johnson Democrats can do the same thing, and in fact, are already organizing such a protest effort. Pro-Johnson Democrats, who in previous years, certain of his nomination, would be trying to influence the Republican choice, will vote Democratic in order to minimize the importance of the protest vote.

It all sounds pretty wild, but it certainly makes Wisconsin the ultimate in democracy. Where else can you vote for nobody?

TULARE COUNTY Navy league honored Captain Leland B. Cornell, commanding officer of the Naval Air station at Lemoore, standing center, and Mrs. Cornell, seated right, at a dinner meeting in Gang Sue's new Lantern room Tuesday night. Speaking at the meeting on the importance of sea-based military striking power, then answering questions about combat flying operations in Viet Nam, was Commander Edwin D. McKellar Jr., standing left, a former member of the famous Blue Angels Flight Demonstration team. Standing at right is Loren Schmid, of Porterville, Navy League president; seated left is Mrs. Schmid.

SPRINGVILLE - Young riders from throughout the southern San Joaquin valley will hit the leather Sunday in the 15th annual Junior Horse Show and Gymkhana, sponsored by the Springville Lions club at the Springville Rodeo arena. Action will get under way at 8:30 a.m.

Twenty-six classes in two age groups have been scheduled for the event, with ribbons to be awarded through sixth place and with high point trophies to go to the top rider in the age group up to 13 years, and from age 14 through 17 years.

Concession stands - food and soft drinks, will be open on the grounds throughout the day.

Judges for the show will be Carter Arnett, of Clovis, and John Keck of Springville. Show director is Joe Simington.

Show secretaries are listed as: Emmy Kibler, Chris McKiearnan, Linda McCarley, Twila McCarley, Scotty Wood, and Veronica Bone.

Scorekeepers will be Cathy Ferguson and Carolyn Shaffer; trophy and ribbon manager is Dorothy Dye; ring crew, gate men and time keepers will be provided by the Springville Lions club; Public address system will be provided by Sunbeam Bakery; food booths will be operated by Springville Boy Scouts.

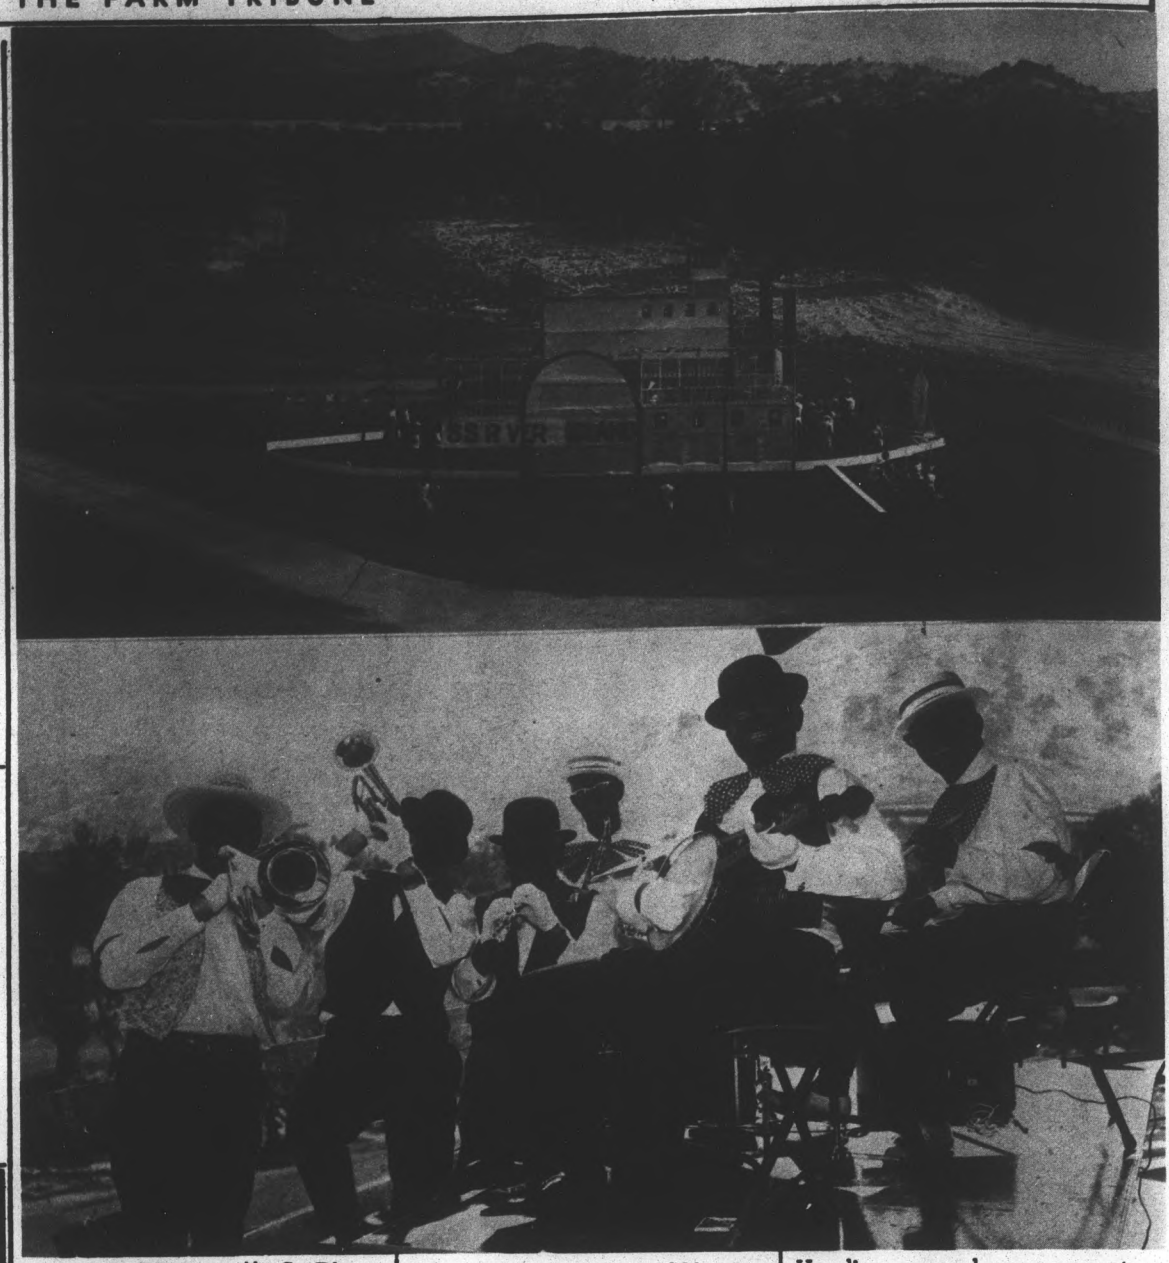
American Horse Show association and California State Horsemen's association rules will be followed.

Post entries, at $3.00 per class, will be accepted up to two classes prior to the class entered.

FARM BUREAU MEETS OCTOBER 10

VISALIA - Board of directors of the Tulare County Farm Bureau will meet next Tuesday night, October 10, at the Assembly hall in Visalia to conduct regular business of the organization.

Harvest of Bell peppers has started in the northern San Joaquin valley.



THE RIVER boat "S.S. River Island" docked at the River Island golf course last Thursday to provide a colorful setting for third annual Women's Invitational tournament held during the day and concluded with a steak dinner. On the boat were a number of Mississippi gamblers, and lovely belles of the south were in considerable evidence. Musicians off the boat were: Don Roberts, Bill Murphy, Monte Gifford, Vern Long, Eddie Mauldin and Al Bird. Colonel Dixon Robb kept a watchful eye on proceedings; presiding at games of skill were John Moore, Carl Hamilton, Earl Stahl, Emory Cranmore, Joe Mosconi, and Cecil Magill. Heading general arrangements were Jean Stark and Donna Bray; Dorris Karstaedt was in charge of food; Dr. Bob Karstaedt barbecued steaks. Dorothy Magill decorated the boat, which was constructed at Porterville college under supervision of Jim Maples and Gary Hill; 104 women golfers from 26 clubs participated in the tournament; Centennial type dress was the order of the day. We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

SO, WE'RE crossing the Santa Fe tracks on Harrison and whamo, two cock pheasants zoom up, fly down the tracks and settle in across Morton along the Pioneer ditch... Of course we saw them. Of course we had not been in the Mountain Lion saloon... Furthermore, we suggest that as a public relations gesture, city councilmen establish an inside - the - city - limits pheasant season so farmers can come to town and shoot up the city folks' property for a change.

DIRECTORS OF the Porterville fair believe that a shot of new, young life will be put into the 1968 fair, what with the junior chamber of commerce, headed by Joe Faure, taking on the job of handling sale of exhibit space and program advertising... This arrangement sort of marks the advent of the second generation, since Joe exhibited the grand champion steer at the first Porterville fair back in 1948.

WE'RE TIRED of hearing folks yak about the badness of television programs. Seems like every survey involving TV shows that what the people really want is 24 hours of culture, or education, or something uplifting (which we doubt) and seldom if ever does a survey turn up anything good about television programming... Now, we're certainly not rising to the defense of the one-eyed monster, but if we were ever surveyed we'd have to say that we like some programs well enough to spend time watching them... When we don't like what we see, we resort to that little knob on the side of the set. We turn it to the left, and that takes care of a lousy TV show... After all, TV is a commercial proposition. It lives on advertising. If TV advertising gets results, then people must be watching the programs - and the advertisements. If people watch TV programs they don't like, then they're stupid, and the problem, if any, does not evolve around television programming but around the stupidity of a few million watchers... One thing is for sure. Government control of television programming is something that better be stopped before it starts. If those dear friends and gentle people who seem to get surveyed and who seem to find everything wrong with TV think things are bad now, just let the government get its hand in, then watch things go from bad to worse to worse than that... If you don't like what you see on the TV screen, don't expect government to help the situation... That little knob, turned to the left, is the answer.

SPORTSMEN WILL MEET TONIGHT

PORTERVILLE - Directors of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association will meet tonight, 7 o'clock, at the Rocky Hill clubhouse.

Shipment of cantaloupes from the Westside district remains light.

GROUND WAS officially broken Tuesday morning for the new $100,000 Pacific Telephone company business office at the southwest corner of Thurman avenue and Second street in Porterville, with the above group participating in the ceremony, from left: Roy Pederson, Porterville city manager; Bob Board, Pacific Telephone manager in Porterville; Bill Paynter, of the firm of Eddy and Paynter, Bakersfield architects who designed the building; Robert Klein, of Robert Klein and Associates of Fresno, who will construct the building for lease to the telephone company; Porterville Mayor Marty Martin; Frank Kidder, president of the Porterville chamber of commerce; James Cox, of Wheeler and Taylor, Fresno contractors who will handle the job; and Allan Coates, manager of the Porterville chamber of commerce. Old Corrals Will Fade Into History

PORTERVILLE - Corrals at the Southern Pacific depot on D street in Porterville will soon fade into the memories of history.

A communication from the state public utilities commission says that Southern Pacific plans to remove the corrals from public service as of October 30. If anyone desires to protest the action, they should address a letter to the California Public Utilities commission, California State building, San Francisco, Calif., 94102.

The railroad company reports that only one carload of cattle was handled at the corrals in the year of 1965, and none since that date.

In "the old days" thousands of head of cattle would go out of the community by rail each year, and cattle drives often came out of the hills, down Putnam avenue and Main street, to the corrals.

But with trucks taking over a major part of livestock hauling, the old corrals have apparently outlived their usefulness.

Keep your money in a safe place.

There are lots of places to keep your money. Places that are safe. And places that are not so safe. When it's the money you've set aside for your savings, you want to keep it where you know it's safe. Where you know it's earning a profitable return. And where you know it's available when you need it. That's the kind of money to keep in the world's largest bank. You can't find any safer place than that.

HARP SPEAKS OF MANY THINGS BUT NOT VERY MUCH

Reflections on a Tuesday morning. George - baby loses. Or did he win? When Lynda Bird announced her engagement to a Marine officer she took away the favorite play-toy of half the gossip columists in the U. S. I hated to see it. I still think the wedding would have been beautiful. Cast and performed in Hollywood, Edgar Buchanan, playing Judge Roy Bean, would have performed the ceremony, and given it a lot of class.

Now I suppose the ceremony will take place in Washington with Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara directing. First thing he's going to do is toss out the traditional wedding gown as being obsolete, outmoded and fiscally unsound. He will replace it with a paisley print shift which will cost less, be more contemporary and can be used later for Halloween masquerades.

It's World Serious time. I could care less. When the Dodgers folded in January baseball took its place along side soccer in my book of sports interests, and soccer isn't listed. But, just for kicks, I'm taking Seattle in five games. Pheonix doesn't have a chance.

College Hits Enrollment High

PORTERVILLE - Fall semester enrollment at Porterville college has set a new record, according to Paul R. Kercher, dean of student personnel.

When registration closed on September 15, there were 758 students registered in the day program and another 318 enrolled in the evening college program only, for a total of 1076, Kercher stated.

The county board of supervisors has been asked by resolution from the Cutler-Orosi chamber of commerce to name a proposed park on Kings river after the late county supervisor, Malcolm Crawford.

NEW CROPS MOVING INTO HARVEST PICTURE

VISALIA - With summer changing to fall, additional crops are moving into the harvest picture in Tulare county according to Agricultural Commissioner E. O. Mankins.

Final irrigation of cotton has been made and boles are beginning to open, Mankins states. Field corn and blackeye harvest is in progress. Milo harvest is continuing.

Prune harvest is near completion; early varieties of walnuts are being shaken and sent to dehydrators; some pomegranates are being picked.

Valencia oranges are still being picked; fall budding of citrus nursery stock has started; pepper harvest is underway, and green beans are being staked.

HI-POINT FILLY, two-years and under, of the San Joaquin Quarter Horse association, is shown above; she is owned and bred by Freeland and Evalyn Farnsworth and Larry and Sandra Southard. This is the only local horse placing in 1967 for awards given by the association and is also the first foal sired in California by Be Smokey Star.

Brisk Ticket Sale Indicates Large Crowd For Kiwanis Kapers Oct. 12

PORTERVILLE - A brisk sale of tickets indicates a large crowd for annual Kiwanis Kapers that will be staged by the Porterville Kiwanis club in the Porterville Memorial auditorium the evening of October 12. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The all - professional show will feature Jo Ann Castle, from the Lawrence Welk troupe. On stage with her will be Doodles Weaver, nationally known commedian; Jay Lee and the Princess with their oriental wit and wizardy; Jara and Tony Bell, spectacular dancing team; and Battiste Locatelli, Neopolitan tenor.

Backing the show will be Lex Golden and his Statler Hilton orchestra.

Tickets, reserved seat and general admission, are available from Kiwanis club members and will be sold at the door. Downtown ticket office is at Topper Jewelers.

Show chairman is Kiwanian Harley Baker; working with him are club officers: Ralph Aldridge, president; Earl Hodgson, first vice president; Art Ortstadt, second vice president; and John Osti, secretary-treasurer.

TCPOA Meeting Set In Pixley

PIXLEY - October meeting of directors of the Tulare County Property Owners' association will be held October 17 at the Pixley Memorial building, Tuesday, October 17, 7 p.m., with Bob Simeral, a new director of the association, stating that all persons interested in problems of property assessment and taxes are invited to attend. The association has now passed the 800 membership mark and is shooting for 1,000 by the end of the year.

Poultry Congress To Be Biggest Yet

FRESNO - With room reservations and sale of display booths at a record high, the 1967 Western Poultry Congress promises to be the biggest yet. It is scheduled for October 31 - November 2, at Fresno; theme will be "Working - Planning - Cooperating."

HERB HALEY, of rural Lemoore, has been appointed administrative assistant to State Assemblyman Gordon Duffy. Haley is a retired Navy commander and former administrative officer at the Naval Air Station in Lemoore. He served as procurement and budgeting director for the Navy missile system in Washington, D.C.; he was a carrier pilot in World War II; he attended Kingsburg schools and George Washington University in Washington D.C.; with his wife and two children he now owns and lives on a ranch near Lemoore. A resident of Lemoore since 1961, Haley has served on the Lemoore chamber of commerce and is at present a committee member of the Farm Home administration in Kings county and a director of the Tri-County Quarter Horse association.

PORTERVILLE BOY IS SEMI-FINALIST

PORTERVILLE - Peter J. Anderson, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson and a student at Porterville high school, has been named a semifinalist in the 1967-68 National Merit Scholarship program.

RICHARD DILLON HISTORICAL SOCIETY SPEAKER

VISALIA - Richard Dillon, librarian of the Sutro library in San Francisco, will be the principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the Tulare County Historical society to be held Saturday, October 14, 7 p.m., at College of the Sequoias in Visalia. His subject will be, "John Sutter in the San Joaquin."

All interested persons are invited to attend; reservations should be made with Miss Annie Mitchell, 701 Watson avenue, Visalia 93277, by October 11. Dinner cost will be $3.00; a post card to Miss Mitchell requesting reservations is sufficient.

Department of Fish and Game has started the stocking of High Sierra lakes by air with a half million fingerling Rainbow trout and 400,000 Eastern Brooks.

"BORN YESTERDAY" IS A GOOD PRODUCTION AT THE BARN THEATER

"Born Yesterday" is a good production - not sensational, but solid.

The total show fits into what we would consider a notch or two above average, as "average" goes in Porterville's Barn theater.

Action, on opening night, moved well enough for an opening night, although there was a tendency to drag in act two, and there was room for a bit more of a build up toward the final scenes.

Perhaps the failure to reach a maximum climax hinged on Don Grace. Obviously, he knows what he is doing on a stage, but his interpretation of character in the last act fell short.

Instead of being a crusading, liberal writer who had brought his man to bay, his pose-striking acting called to our mind the picture of a weak Johnny Strongheart. In earlier scenes he was quite good.

Stella Pukmel, in her first Barn speaking role, was excellent in so far as appearance, charm, character interpretation and movement were concerned. But her voice! Maybe we failed to understand just what she was trying to do, but her voice was so high-pitched and her diction so unrealistic that we found ourselves straining to catch her words - and missing quite a few of them.

Ken Caston was excellent. He looked and acted the part he was playing - and that's basically what an actor is supposed to do.

And Jon Chapman was equally good, for the same reasons.

Smaller roles were handled capably by Dr. Walter Carpenter, his wife, Lottie Carpenter, and by John Emery. Bit parts were played by Clara Akin, Tom Keels, Mike Cantrell, Billy Akin, Eldeen Sheldon and Richard Newman, the latter also director of the show.

Not the least important aspect of "Born Yesterday" is that this play opens the Barn's 20th season. In those previous 19 years, the Barn has had its ups and downs, its moments of very poor theater and its fine moments of excellent theater.

Over all, it has been an asset to the community, providing an activity for those persons interested in the many phases of community theater, as well as providing good entertainment for spectators and a recreational outlet for many persons from practically every community in Tulare county.

And as a sidelight - in the cast of the first Barn Theater production, lo those many years ago, was one Eldon Hunt, who became a Barn perennial - and a fine actor.

In the cast of "Born Yesterday" is his daughter, Eldeen Sheldon. So, the Barn moves into its second generation.

ROCKFORD 4-H PLANS PROGRAM FOR NEW YEAR

ROCKFORD - Plans for the new 4-H year were discussed at the September meeting of the Rockford 4-H club, as 40 members were signed up for 1967-68.

Cathy Mortensen was named chairman of a committee to plan and build a float for the Veterans' day parade in Porterville, November 11; working with her will be: David Koontz, co-chairman; Kenney Brinkley, Tom Falconer, Nylene Stevens, Betsy Billiou, and Todd Browning.

Achievement program was planned for the club's October 10 meeting that will be held jointly with the Ducor 4-H club.

Mrs. John Briano, a club leader, reported on ticket sales and plans for the 4-H Chuckwagon breakfast that will be held Saturday, October 7, on the Smith Market parking lot in Porterville.

Carrie Lunstad reported on the recent Tulare County fair; Kathy Briano on the Davis conference; David Davis conference; Rodney Valine, David Koontz and Giovanna Briano on the Kiwanis-sponsored trip to Southern California during the summer; and Rhonda Gibson on a club window display in the Brinkley store at Poplar during National 4-H week.

Plans were made for members to attend the church of their choice on 4-H Sunday, with a potluck to be served at the Rockford school on that day.

Two activity projects were accepted by the club, with Carrie Lunstad heading recreation and Virginia Hochuli, record keeping.

Presiding at the September meeting was Sandra Valine, club president, pledge of allegiance was led by Sue Jones, and the 4-H pledge by Loretta Weimer.

College of the Sequoias in Visalia has asked for state support in construction of a $1,000,000, two-story, fine arts building.

FAIR BOARD

grounds, including actual cash expended for the new dressing rooms constructed last year, and improvement of the electrical system, amounted to $4,327.46; the fair has a current bank balance of $3,358.57.

Official financial statement is being prepared by Earl Reed, accountant.

Directors accepted "with regrets" two resignations from the fair board - John Guthrie and Bruce Ward. These board vacancies will be filled at a future board meeting.

Work on the 1968 Fair Premium book was started, with Joe Faure accepting the responsibility of rearranging the book and getting it into the hands of a printer in time for publication shortly after the first of the year. Working with him will be Jim Martinez, livestock superintendent, and other members of the livestock committee.

In critiquing the 1967 fair, directors considered a number of suggestions for improvement of future fairs.

Presiding at the Monday meeting was Bill Rodgers, vice chairman of the board. Other directors attending were: Bob Dusek, Chet Gilbert, Bob Bennett, Richard Owen, W. E. Moench, and Board, also Rolla Bishop, an honorary fair board member.

4-H Breakfast

Buck Shaffer, will play at 8:30 a.m., and during the breakfast other entertainment will be provided by various individuals and groups, including:

Connie Tilerman, Annie Jones, Terry Janes, Jean McCrillis and Polly Simmerman, a singing group; Cindy and Billy Tinker, and Judy Peak, from the Dennis Dance studio; Bobby Spark and Brent Salter, an instrumental combo; Judi Halbert, Carol Staton, Kattie Speaks, Cheryl Taylor, Karen Eisner, Jackie Dill Cheryl Lindroos, and Rachel Keeler, a singing group calling themselves The 8th Notes, accompanied by Mrs. Keppy Staton; and Greg Ferrell, Brent Johnson, Sammy Arnold and Ronnie Hill, an instrumental group.

A pancake flipping contest and a hog calling contest will add excitement to the morning program, with Mrs. Chester Gilbert in charge. Master of ceremonies for the breakfast will be Ray Holloway.

Mrs. Joaquin Parsons is wagon master for the breakfast; Mrs. Wanda Turner is in charge of entertainment.

Donations toward the breakfast are being made by: Brey Wright Lumber company, Carnation - Albers, Challenge Milk company, Dale Brothers, Dairymen's Cooperative creamery, French Laundry, Folgers Coffee company; Jack Griggs Butane; Knudsen Dairy, Mary Ellen company, Nielsen Creamery, Noble Arden Dairy, Olson Egg company, the Porterville National Guard unit; Porterville high school, Porterville State hospital, S & W Septic Tank service, Smith's Complete market, Sunkist Growers, Tulare County Lemon and Grapefruit association, Zellerbach Paper company and Gang Sue.

FISH PLANT

riders will travel out of Shake Camp early Saturday morning with about 5,000 fish, moving through Redwood meadow to Dillon creek, a tributary of the North fork, to make the plant. Another 1,000 to 1,500 will be planted in Pine creek, also a tributary.

Working up from the valley level of the North fork will be planting crews travelling by jeep and tote goat to plant the balance of the fish in Jennie creek and in the North fork above Jack Flat.

A camp will be set up for workers Friday night at Shake camp, with Harry Scruggs in charge. Supper, breakfast and a saddle lunch will be prepared for workers at this camp.

Volunteers with horses should contact John Keck, who will be in charge of riders. He can be reached at 784-6154.

It is anticipated that the plant in the high country will be completed on Saturday. If it is not, crews will work Sunday morning.

Hay and grain for stock, and food for workers, will be provided by the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association.

Deer kill in both early and late seasons in California is running considerably lower than last year.

Another Tax On Cigarettes Now In Effect

SACRAMENTO - On Sunday, October 1, cigarettes went up another three cents a pack or 30 cents per carton, with the $72 million annual income going to California's 400 cities and 58 counties.

The additional three-cent levy was enacted by the 1967 Legislature to increase local revenues. A four-cent per pack levy was added August 1 to help finance the state budget.

The State Board of Equalization estimated that cities and counties of California will receive about $49 million this fiscal year and $72 million annually thereafter.
